DON BRENNAN FATALLY INJURED
IN AUTO RACE AT LINCOLN

Orland Park and adjoining communities were greatly shocked last Friday when the news was received of the sudden death of Don Brennan, 25, who was fatally injured while racing at the midget speedway at Lincoln, Ill.

Don, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brennan, of routes 45 and 6, Orland township, had been participating in midget auto racing for nearly six years, and had won the world's record for midget cars at Langhorne, Penn., for running the mile in the shortest length of time. This record has not been beaten as of yet.

It is not clear just what did happen last Thursday evening at the Lincoln speedway. It was during the main feature race and on the first turn, about 10:30 p.m., that his car tipped over on its side. There was no congestion of cars because of it. He was removed at once from the field and taken to St. Clara's hospital in Lincoln where it was found he had broken his collar bone. A call was made to his parents and it was thought he was not too seriously injured. He passed away at 2:55 a. m. Friday morning.

Don was born February 24, 1923 in Chicago and came with his parents to Tinley Park when he was three years old. He started school in that village and in 1930 moved with his parents to Orland township when they established the Brennan's Gables at routes 45 and 6. There he attended Orland Center public school and Orland Park high school from which he was graduated.

It was August 26, 1942 that he was inducted into the service of his country and later was sent into the Pacific theatre of war. He participated in the Okinawa invasion on April 1, 1945, and on November 15, 1945 he returned home with his honorable discharge, never having been injured. In due time he took up auto racing again, which he had started before entering the service. He raced on Speedways at Springfield, Ill., South Bend, Ind., and many other outstanding fields. He was racing with a Triplet Offy No. 54 all this year. The Don's service station and cabins at routes 45 and 6 were named for him, being built by his parents. He was known the country over for his fine racing record.

He was a member of the Midwest Race Driver's association, Orland Park American Legion No. 526 and the B. P. O. E. of Blue Island. He and Miss Betty Tracy of Midlothian had completed their plans to be married in the near future.

Surviving beside his parents, is one sister Mrs. Carolyn McAleer and many friends.

Funeral services were held in St. Michael's Catholic church in Orland Park Monday morning September 27 with Rev. Fr. Kilbride officiating and the Orland Park American Legion in charge of the military services. Burial was in the St. Michael's cemetery.

FREE MOVIES FOR FAMILY
NIGHT REPUBLICAN GATHERING

Free movies, featuring an action-packed Western, "Abeline Town," starring Randolph Scott, and including a 15-minute color film on Illinois government, will be shown at Mokena, Thursday evening October 7, at 8:00 o'clock in the school auditorium.

The show is sponsored by the women's division of the Illinois Republican central committee, headed by Mrs. Helen Griffin, Grant Park, and is brought to Frankfort township under the auspices of the Will County women's Republican club, with the regular Republican organization co-operating.

The Hollywood feature is a Class A picture, uncut and unchanged from its original showing. The color film, "Your Investment in Illinois," was written and directed by Ruth McCormick Miller, LaSalle publisher and daughter of the late Congressman at Large, Ruth Hanna McCormick Simms.

The idea of the program is to have a political meeting that features moving picture entertainment rather than speeches, and for this program Mrs. Miller has prepared a news reel style color film that presents, in the space of 15 minutes, a thorough survey of the activities of the administration of Gov. Dwight H. Green in education, aviation, agriculture, welfare, and veterans' work.

The movie meeting at Mokena, Oct.

7, will be the 23rd in a series of 40 being booked by Mrs. Griffin's organization in scattered downstate Illinois counties this fall. It is a major activity of Illinois GOP women in the 1948 campaign, and will be the only time it will be shown in Will county.

It is anticipated that county and district candidates, as well as other Republican leaders from the Will county area will attend the Mokena meeting. They will be introduced only, and will mingle with all at the close.

Mrs. Margaret M. Semmler, precinct committee woman from Mokena will be in charge of the meeting, with Mrs. Leo Peterson, precinct committee woman for Frankfort co-operating. Assisting will be Mrs. Hugo Neithammer, Mrs. Henry Shevlin, Mrs. Fred Rauch, Mrs. Alvie Spiess, Mrs. Harold Spiess, Mrs. Albert Krusemark Jr., Mrs. Burton Breidert, and Mrs. Walter Pfaff; also Elmer Cooper, precinct committeeman for Mokena and Albert Krusemark Jr., committeeman for Frankfort.

An invitation is extended herewith to all adjoining townships: New Lenox, Green Garden, Frankfort, Orland, Bremen, Joliet, in fact any one anywhere who would like to come, all are welcome.

SPIESS-MOUTREY VOWS SPOKEN IN MOKENA CHURCH

The Immanuel Lutheran church, Mokena was the scene of a lovely wedding Saturday evening at seven o'clock when Miss Doris E. Spiess became the bride of Mr. Melvin C. Moutrey of Grant Park. The pastor, Rev. A. W. Gode read the single ring ceremony at an altar banked with palms, ferns, white pom poms, gladioli and candles.

Mr. Beece, of the Trinity Lutheran church, Tinley Park, presided at the organ and accompanied Mrs. William Gode of Blue Island when she sang, "Because," "The Lord's Prayer," and "Oh Perfect Love."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvie L. Spiess of Mokena and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Moutrey of Grant Park.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a white satin gown with a sweetheart neckline. Her veil was full length with hearts of lace appliqued on net and was caught by a tiara of orange blossoms. She wore a lavalier belonging to her paternal grandmother, and carried a bouquet of white roses with a shower of stephenotes.

Miss Carol Moutrey, sister of the groom was maid of honor and wore a gown of aqua frosted taffeta with a poke bonnet to match. She carried pink carnations.

Serving as bridesmaids were friends of the bride, Miss Lois Hutson of Mokena and Miss Helen Roth, Thornton. They both wore pink frosted taffeta dresses identical to that of the maid of honor. Their poke bonnets matched their gowns, and they carried aqua carnations.

Little Mary Ann Diekelman, cousin of the bride wore a pink frosted taffeta dress and carried a basket of rose petals.

Allen Creer of Orland Park, cousin of the bride was ring bearer. He wore a black tuxedo suit and carried the ring on a white satin pillow.

Albert Barnham served his friend as best man.

Ushers were Lloyd Spiess, brother of the bride and Alva Griest. Mrs. Spiess chose for her daughter's wedding a gray gown with Kelly green accessories and the groom's mother wore a navy blue gown with black accessories. Each had a white carnation corsage. Adding to the festive occasion were the grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Storz of Thornton and the groom's grandmother, Mrs. C. Hasbargen of Kankakee.

The grandmothers wore black dresses and their corsages were white carnations.

Following the service, a reception was held in St. Mary's hall which was attended by 150 relatives and friends. Mrs. Fred Brown of Green Garden served the buffet dinner assisted by four waitresses, friends of the bride: Joan Martie, Alice Sizer, Carol Ben-

New R. I. Depot At
Mokena A Reality

The long talked about new Rock Island depot is really going to be a sure thing, because Monday morning a crew of workmen arrived. They started to mark off space, and all that goes with the preliminaries of erecting a new building. It is planned that the work of excavating and grading will start today, but the building will not be completed until next year.

The architect and general contractor is Daniel J. McGrath of Chicago. The building is to be brick and metal. Oil heat, and furnished with tables and chairs. It is to be built on the south of the tracks directly opposite from the present building.

Mokena certainly will be proud of the new station when it is completed.

Celebrate With New Organ 115th Marley
Church Anniversary

Keeping step with progress and time, the Marley church will celebrate the 115th anniversary of the church organization Sunday evening, October 3 with the dedication of a splendid Wurlitzer electronic organ. Through all these years, this church has not lagged and the installing of this fine new church equipment shows the progressiveness of this small, but active community. This is a far step from the pioneers who founded this church, when no music was available.

Following the dedication service a concert will be given on the new organ with Joe Lyons of Joliet organist. Mrs. D. Korista of Chicago will be a soloist. A cordial invitation is extended to all in the community and vicinity to attend this service.

son, and Anita Geuther all of Mokena. The bridal table was covered with a white linen spread and was centered with a four tiered wedding cake surrounded with white wedding bells and candles.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Moutrey left that same evening on a honeymoon, the bride wearing a forest green suit with brown accessories and a pink gladioli corsage. When they return they will make their home with the bride's parents. The groom is employed in Kankakee with a floor sanding firm.

Mother Missed Death When
Grazed By Rifle Shot

What was supposedly a pleasing pastime narrowly escaped being a fatal event, when rifle shooting was being indulged in at Lincoln Estates Sunday afternoon September 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Yaudegis, River road, had guests from Chicago that day. Their garage is attached to their house and as some of their guests, a mother and her two small children were coming from the garage into the house, two rifle shots whizzed by the mother so close to her that she felt the breeze of them. One of the shots went thru the garage wall.

Deputy Sheriff William Knippel was called who came at once and investigated. It was disclosed that men were seen at that time shooting and Mr. Knippel states that if rifle shooting is continued the gun will be taken from those indulging in this dangerous amusement. The shots came from the south and at about 200 feet distance. It would have been a serious affair if the mother of these two small children had been killed with this shot. It is very dangerous to shoot other than in a wide open space. The state law prohibits shooting in a thickly populated area.

Easter Lily Blooming

Mrs. John Martin, Mokena, who had been given an Easter lily plant at Easter time, is very happy over the fact that the plant now has produced three beautiful lillies. Mrs. Martin let the plant rest for several months, then started to water it, when it started to grow and then to blossom.

Durrant and Berquist, architects, have completed preliminary plans for a new grade school building to be erected for District 122, New Lenox, on a 13-acre tract on North Cedar road in New Lenox. The New Lenox school board is displaying these plans at the post office and other public places.

The first unit of the proposed building will contain four classrooms and a play room so constructed that it can be used to form two additional classrooms as the plan develops. Principal's office, wash rooms, boiler room, and other service spaces are part of the first unit, also.

By logical development, the school building can be expanded to include a gymnasium-auditorium, 16 additional classrooms, a kitchen and cafeteria, and a garage for school buses.

Brick and concrete will be the principal construction materials, and the lines of the building are long, low, and square. All of the classrooms of the first unit will have a full east wall made of aluminum window sash in aluminum framing. This will guarantee the best of natural lighting. The direct glare of the sun will be screened by a three-foot cornice projecting above the east wall.

Children's clothing and personal belongings will be stored in hall lockers adjacent to each classroom. These will be locked and unlocked as a group by the teacher of that class. Fresh air will be forced through the classrooms, thence through the locker spaces, thence through the wash rooms and out the roof vents, keeping all areas dry and well-ventilated.

Funds for the new school were obtained from a $140,000 bond issue passed by the voters of the district last year.

Cow Saved by Blood Transfusion

Cows are getting into the swim also, for now they are having blood transfusions—when the occasion is serious enough. And it was serious, with one of the cows belonging to Stanley Brown, who works the farm with his father, Fred Brown, south of Frankfort in Green Garden township.

Last Monday the Brown's cows broke through their fence and wandered around in the corn field, eating all the nice green corn they could, until they were discovered and the owner drove them back to their home. But the corn did not agree with three of the cows and the veterinarian, Dr. J. H. Moser of Frankfort was called.

Two of the sick cows responded to treatment satisfactorily but the one cow remained too ill, and was gradually weakening. As a last resort, Dr. Moser took two pints of blood from a cow of the herd which was not sick, taking it from the cow's jugular vein, and injecting it at once into the jugular vein of the sick cow. The latter soon responded and the owner as well as the veterinarian, are very pleased with the condition of the cow now.

YOUR RIGHT TO KNOW

October 1 to 8 is National Newspaper Week. We who work on and with newspapers are usually so busy writing the news, and taking care of all that goes with it, that we don't have time to stop and think about any special attention being given to newspapers.

It seemed most fitting at this time for Illinois business to join other national and state groups in observance of National Newspaper Week, October 1-8. Therefore President Frank W. Jenks of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, vice president, International Harvester company, Chicago this week sent the following message to Charles W. Mills, Publisher, Vandalia Leader, and President of the Illinois Press association, and to editors throughout the state:

"Men and women of Illinois business are glad to join in congratulating the newspapers of our state during National Newspaper Week, October 1-8. We compliment you on the slogan 'Your Right to Know is the Key to All Your Liberties.' It emphasizes the role of the press today in reporting and interpreting the changing picture of local, state and national events. It also impresses on each citizen his responsibility to keep well informed so that he may properly judge the issues he is asked to decide. We must protect and foster the hard-won right to freedom of thought and expression, a right which has made our nation great and will make it greater."

Personally, I was much impressed with an address I heard Harold Stassen, former Governor of Minnesota, recently give, when he spoke of his trip in Russia. He told how some Russian people told him that "In America you do not have a free press. You are controlled by the politicians, what you can publish. We here in Russia can put anything in our newspapers that our government officials will allow." Mr. Stassen said it was no use talking about their free press, they just could not understand the word, it seemed. They didn't seem to understand "Your Right to Know is the Key to All Your Liberties."

It probably is a good thing, especially right now, to stop and consider what our newspapers in America really mean to us. Some times we get real provoked with the papers, they seem to be inconsistent but after all, we in this country have the right to read what we want, to not take a paper if we don't want it, and to take it if we want to.

In Russia, Mr. Stassen said, the Government would print what would be a front page of an American newspaper, then it was posted at a given place in the city, and those who wanted to read it and know what was printed on it, would go to that place every day, and stand there and read it, rain or shine.

No country in all the world equals the United States in so far as any point of publishers seldom agree on any point of opinion. The facts of any story, for the most part, are accurate it remaining for the readers to draw their own conclusions.

N. U. Teacher Says English Spelling is Waste of Time

There are no more oddities in the sideshow of a psoloquise than there are in English spelling, believes Falk Johnson, instructor in English at Northwestern university.

He is of the opinion that some stream lining would do our written language a lot of good, but what's holding up the reform—is the English-speaking world's habit of clinging to spelling customs. "The linguistic reflexes involved in reading and writing just don't tolerate the old and the nu-fangle," he said.

In his researches into the history and peculiarities of English spelling, Mr. Johnson found numerous examples which are no less weird than the contrived psoloquise for "circus," which he used to illustrate how silly our spelling can be. (The "ps" in "psology" is pronounced like the first "c" in "circus"; the "olo" may be pronounced "ir" as in "colonel"; the second "c" in "circus" is like the "qu" in "bouquet"; and the "us" like the "oise" in "tortoise.")

Those silent letters are one of the most important differences between English as it is spoken and as it is written. Many now silent letters in the language were pronounced about 500 years ago, Mr. Johnson explained, when the printer Caxton introduced his craft into England, and quite naturally, included such letters in the printed word. Since then, however, the letters have disappeared from the spoken language, but have persisted, "imbedded like fossils," in the written English.

For instance, the "l" in would was pronounced in Caxton's day, but now, although unpronounced, it still remains in the spelling, along with some silent letters which never were pronounced in the history of the language.

Among supreme examples of the idiosyncrasy of perpetuating silent letters in the written word, Mr. Johnson cited "knickknack." "This incredible word," he said, "includes a silent double 'k', and has the same letter silent four times."

Of the 604,000 words in the unabridged Merriam-Webster dictionary, more than 400,000 have been estimated to have at least one silent letter, and many, of course have more than one," he explained.

Is it actually possible to change an unreasonable and wasteful system of spelling deeply ingrained in the linguistic habits of a quarter of a billion people living on the several separate continents of the English-speaking world? Answers to this question differ, Mr. Johnson pointed out, but the proponents of spelling reform insist that the needed changes be made, and that spelling has undergone necessary alterations in every period in which the language has been recorded.

THE CARELESS CITIZEN—HE MOVED AND NEGLECTED TO CHANGE HIS ADDRESS

For example, the medieval spellings, "housbonde," "mynde," and "ygone," have been replaced by the familiar "husband," "mind," and "gone." As recently as the last century, Mr. Johnson explained, Noah Webster, the dictionary man, was instrumental in throwing the silent "k" out of words as "musick" and "logick."

Plans advanced for spelling reform are roughly of two types, those who favor phonetic spelling (duplicating the actual sounds of words with a new alphabet) and simplified spelling, the Northwestern teacher said. Most conservative reformers, however, do not recommend anything so drastic as phonetic spelling. They do not believe that the present system should be replaced by a new one, or that the present alphabet should be tampered with. Rather, they want to keep, and gradually to simplify, the present system, such as removing one "k" at a time from "knock," until the English public becomes accustomed to gradual change.

Present spelling causes a waste of time and educational funds. Spelling, which should be as easy and effortless as speaking, is a lifetime task. Even the most educated persons need dictionaries constantly at their elbows. Mr. Johnson recalled one estimate of losses involved in learning English spelling: a half billion man years per generation. However, in spite of the many inefficiencies in the spelling of the language, Mr. Johnson said that important changes won't come in his lifetime—or ours.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh,

Your Most Important Right

Now that the bandstand has been painted, and the park re-landscaped, we have about the nicest village green in the county.

And it's all because, at the last town election, folks got out and voted—85 per cent of them! That way, they passed the amendment calling for park improvements—over those opposing it.

Reminds you again how important the right to vote is in this country. And it's a right we can retain only by exercising it!... like all the other individual liberties—from freedom to enjoy a glass of beer or ale, to a woman's right to vote along with men.

Folks can thank themselves that on summer evenings they'll be able to listen to band concerts in a well-kept park... enjoying a bottle of beer or soda pop (whichever they prefer). Because from where I sit, that's a freedom they've earned by exercising a still more important freedom: Voting!

MEDICAL, FARM FRATERNITIES WELCOME THREE LOAN STUDENTS

Three men were welcomed to beginning medical careers at a meeting in Chicago Friday night, Sept. 24, with $5,000 loans to finance their studies, and the blessings of the Illinois Agricultural Association and the Illinois State Medical Society.

They are the first beneficiaries of the $100,000 joint medical student loan fund set up by the two organizations to finance the medical studies of men from rural communities who will agree to practice medicine in a rural community in Illinois.

The students are:
Burton E. Bagby of Mounds, Pulaski county, 35 years old, a veteran and the father of three children, who took his premedical course at Memphis (Tenn.) State College, and will study at Loyola university Stritch college of Medicine.
L. C. Fiene of Sparta, Franklin county, 21 years old, who took premed at Southern Illinois university, Carbondale, and will attend the University of Illinois College of Medicine.
Lawrence R. Irish, Blandinsville, Hancock county, 20 years old, who studied at University of Illinois, will continue at the U. of Illinois College of Medicine.

The meeting at which the routine of accepted the students for loans under the terms of the Joint Fund program was completed, was held at Normandy 8 Tower Court, Chicago. Members of the joint board are: Dr. Harlan English of Danville, Dr. Edwin S. Hamilton of Kankakee, and Dr. Everett P. Coleman of Canton, for the state medical society; and Floyd E. Morris vice president of IAA of Buffalo, K. T. Smith of Greenfield and Lyman Bunting of Elery, for the IAA.

This plan was set up as part of a 10-point program to improve the level and distribution of medical care in the rural areas of Illinois. Over-specialization, failure of young doctors originating in cities to settle in country towns, lack of hospital facilities and other factors, studies have shown, have cut down the proportion of physicians to population in rural areas.

Under the plan, men from rural communities who have completed premedical courses, who are approved by local farm bureaus and medical societies, and who will agree to practice in rural communities are eligible for $5,000 loans at the rate of $1,000 a year to complete their four-year medical courses and one-year internships. A list of 20 priority counties, where the situation is worse than usual, has been set up for Illinois. All three of the above named candidates are from such counties.

Loop Bankers Will Instruct Women on Money Management

The principal banking institutions of Chicago will be hosts to members of the Women's Finance Forum, the non-profit organization formed 14 years ago to acquaint women with means and methods for safeguarding their economic assets, beginning with an inaugural meeting the evening of October 4, in the LaSalle Hotel, Chicago with Mark A. Bown, president of the Chicago Clearing House Association, as principal speaker. Subsequent meetings will be held in the quarters of the nine leading Loop banks.

Following addresses by top officials of the banks, members of the Forum will be privileged to question a panel of bankers on various phases of banking and related matters. These open forum discussions will deal with problems encountered by individuals. In addition to asking direct questions, members will submit inquiries in writing and during the sessions.

The Women's Finance Forum was organized by Lorraine L. Blair, author, consultant and lecturer, on the premise that women are literally the owners of a major part of the nation's wealth and spend most of its money on their day-to-day purchases of consumer goods. Mrs. Blair was motivated by what appeared to her to be a compelling need to educate and enlighten women on the means for properly using and conserving these vast assets. In pursuit of her purpose, Mrs. Blair has provided Forum members with opportunities for examining at first hand, the working of the Chicago Stock Exchange, The Board of Trade and other institutions in addition to bringing to Forum meetings experts in all fields of investment, banking, finance, insurance, real estate and related subjects.

In arranging Forum courses, Mrs. Blair has given particular consideration to the convenience of women who live in suburban areas and even in towns and cities within 150 miles of Chicago where the sessions are held. All meetings begin at 7 o'clock on successive Monday evenings and finish in time to allow out-of-town members to return to their homes at reasonable hours.

"These courses are not geared exclusively to the needs of women living in large cities," Mrs. Blair said. "While city women have benefited greatly from advice and instruction, women in places remote from Chicago have been taught how to turn a profit on their holdings despite the fact that they may not be close to a stock exchange or a billion dollar bank. The instruction Forum members have received over the past fourteen years from heads of banking and brokerage houses, has helped many to increase their assets and all of the members have learned how to protect and conserve what they have earned and laid aside for their security against the time when earnings are no longer possible. Those who have inherited small or large estates also have learned how to manage them and make them grow with safety."

Mrs. Blair also said that the Forum is making available transcripts of all sessions of the course for distribution to women everywhere at a nominal fee. Membership in the Women's Finance Forum is open to all women who are interested in knowing more about how to protect their real and personal properties and how to use them safely.

Four Chicago Women Selected for Title "Sweetest Woman"

Four Chicago women have been selected by the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs for the honor of becoming Chicago's "Sweetest Woman" in connection with the observance of Sweetest Day on Saturday, October 16.

The four, selected for their "outstanding civic and charitable work" during the past year, are Mrs. Burnett D. Warner, 1124 Addison street; Mrs. John W. Malcolm, 7508 South Honore street; Mrs. E. Jackson Dewire, 6240 North Hoyne avenue; and Mrs. John Howatt, 4815 Kenwood avenue.

One of the four will be selected the "Sweetest Woman" by an independent board of judges. A special award will be made to her favorite charity and she will reign over the city's observance of Sweetest Day, when over 10,000 gift boxes will be distributed to orphanages, old people's homes and veterans' hospitals.

Sweetest Day has been set aside nationally as a day to "remember to make someone happy." In addition to Chicago, it will be observed this year in Detroit, New York, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Dayton, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Kansas City and other cities across the nation.

Mrs. Warner is founder-president of the Goodwill Industries' Women's Auxiliary organized 11 years ago to assist physically handicapped persons to become useful citizens. She is president of the executive board of the Sarah Hackett Stevenson Memorial and sponsor of the Junior Business and Professional women's club.

Prominent for her work on behalf of underprivileged children, Mrs. Warner heads the Service Council for Girls and the Protestant Big Sister organization. She is past president of the Chicago woman's club, the Cook county federation of women's clubs, and the Lake View and North Shore woman's clubs.

Mrs. Malcolm is the outgoing public welfare chairman of the Englewood woman's club. She was chairman for four years of the Drexel Park Branch of the American Red Cross and has worked with the Salvation Army, Child Haven, the Goodwill Industries, and the Sarah Hackett Stevenson memorial. She has performed outstanding services for the occupational therapy shop of the Oak Forest infirmary.

Mrs. Dewire has long been associated with child welfare, having set up a number of pre-school age scholarships for needy children. She has also raised $10,000 and established a cottage for the Trail Rangers, a group of underprivileged boys.

She is chairman of the State committee on youth conservation of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, was chairman for two years of the federation's public welfare board, and served as chairman of the Park Ridge district. She was formerly president of the Rogers Park women's club and vice-president of American citizenship.

Mrs. Howatt is prominent for her work on behalf of paraplegics and other disabled veterans at Hines and Vaughan hospitals since 1942. She has been chairman of the Hyde Park travel club for the past 11 years and was formerly chairman of the Bryn Mawr woman's club.

Chicago Premiere Of "Voice of the Deep" Oct. 1 Moody Church

Underwater sounds—never before heard by human ears—are the dramatic subject of a new scientific color film, "Voice of the Deep," to be shown Friday, October 1, at 7:45 p. m. in Moody Memorial church, Chicago.

Producer of "Voice of the Deep" is Dr. Irwin A. Moon. The public premiere in Chicago is being sponsored by the Moody Bible Institute.

Dr. Moon is well known in this area for two previous films, "God of Creation" and "God of the Atom." When "God of the Atom" was premiered in Chicago in 1947, two showings were required to accommodate the overflow crowds of nearly ten thousand people.

Contrary to the age-old belief that there is no sound under the sea, "Voice of the Deep" reveals that fish have a definite language of their own. Their aquatic conversations in the film resemble the quacks, grunts, whistles, and clucks of a noisy barnyard. A congregation of snapping shrimp sounds like a crackling forest fire, while a school of Chesapeake Bay croakers was once mistaken for an invasion of enemy ships.

This is the first time that fish sounds have been recorded in a film, according to Dr. Moon. To achieve the unusual scenes in "Voice of the Deep" a scientific expedition was sent from Los Angeles to the coast of southern California. Delicate sounding devices were used to determine where to tune in the hydrophone, or underwater microphone, to find the most noisy fish. Then a diver was lowered into the sea with a specially outfitted camera.

Thirty minutes of colorful marine drama were the result. To climax the film Dr. Moon speaks briefly on the scientific principles behind the hydrophone, and links the new discovery to man's need of God.

Electricity and the Cost of Living

While the cost of living has increased 72% during the last ten years, the price of one essential item, electricity, has actually decreased.

Of each dollar spent by the average householder, based on data of the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, less than 1½¢ goes to buy the electricity which lights the home, refrigerates food, does the laundry and performs an ever-increasing number of other household chores.

In these days of sky-rocketing expenses, the electricity that does so many jobs in the home is still one of the smallest essential items in the household budget. For the same amount of money, an average family in Northern Illinois today can use more electricity than it could 10 years ago.

In fact, electricity is one essential item in the household budget that hasn't gone up in price.

Lights at Nite on Hog Lots Provide Two Extra Meals

What are believed to be new records for economical and speedy pork production were established by Robert C. Turner, Henry, Illinois farmer in a recent night hog feeding experiment. Turner erected lights in his hog lot to provide two feeding periods during the night and produced gains of 1.45 lb. per hog per day for a 63-day period. He fed ground oats plus a pelletized milk feed in self feeders and hand fed ear corn. His feed cost per 100 lb. of pork was $11.70. This is a typical picture of part of his hog lot during a night feeding period. Cost for electricity for the 63-day period was $7.40.

"It's Westgate, Boss—He's going to a Masquerade Ball and wants we should take the squeaks out of him with Trojan Grease"

But that's not all it's good for . . .
Trojan grease was made to take the squeaks out of your car, like no lubricant you've ever used before! It's shot into the chassis by a modern high pressure gun that forces out the old, worn lubricant, then

Trojan gets into all the pressure gun fittings to the bearing surfaces—and stays put!
Trojan is self-sealing for longer protection. It stands up in all kinds of weather—on all kinds of roads.
Treat your car to a real lubrication job, today—with Cities Service Trojan Grease.

The idea that hogs are filthy in their habits is untrue says the World Book Encyclopedia. Hogs will not stuff themselves with food the way other animals—and humans—sometimes will. Hogs wriggle in the mud because it helps keep them cool and removes extra oil on their skins.

A Message to You

We would like to bring to your attention the services rendered by The Semmler Newspapers, for you to compare with any other possible medium.

Your merchants very often cannot duplicate the sensational leads offered by some metropolitan and large chain companies. They do maintain remarkably fair prices and very high standards in the face of bitter competition.

We support these merchants as a community service, for when they succeed, the community grows and we all profit.

Long before the corporations moved in, your local merchants and business men sweated out a bare subsistence, with constant worry and still found time to raise families, help build churches, schools, and bring the community into a thriving pleasant American way of living and at the same time a pleasant shopping center.

Advertising dollars are spent in the channels which contact the greatest number of potential and regular customers.

THE SEMMLER NEWSPAPERS are in the same category as the rest of your local merchants, but with two major exceptions: The News-Bulletin, Mokena has a total paid circulation that is more than double the listed population of the town in which it is published.

The TINLEY PARK TIMES and The ORLAND PARK HERALD have a paid circulation equal to their listed population. And in Oak Forest and Markham, we are growing rapidly with the communities.

The facts are obvious--an average between three and four people to a family--a low estimate--means that practically every family in this surrounding territory read these papers every week. Can any one of the Chicago papers equal these figures? We think not.

The advertising rates are hardly a fraction of the city rates surrounding us. The services offered to churches, schools, civic affairs and organizations are myriad. The Semmler Newspapers are endeavoring to constantly improve and grow: to be a vital, virile, and good influence in one of the fastest growing genuinely friendly groups of communities in all these United States.

Fire Prevention Week
Oct. 3 to 9 With Rules to Observe

Cooperating in the observance of Fire Prevention Week, October 3 to 9, the Greater Chicago Safety Council issued a special bulletin calling attention to the following precautions:

"If you awake at night and smell smoke, do not throw open the door of your room. To do so may be fatal; for if heated air and smoke burst in, you will breathe it—and one breath may be enough! Feel the door. If it is not warm, open it cautiously.

"If there is dense smoke but no flame, tie a wet cloth over your mouth and nose and crawl, because cooler, clearer air will be found near the floor. Close all doors as you pass them.

The bulletin, prepared by Joseph F. Stech, manager of the Safety Council, further admonished persons not to Small feeders and poultrymen—eliminate the cost of hauling grain to town and paying custom grinders. Make better feeds with a quality-built, low-priced John Deere No. 6 Hammer Mill. You can process feeds the way you want them—when you want them—from crops grown on your farm.

The No. 6 operates with a 3- to 10-H.P. motor or small, one-plow tractor. Grinds all grains and corn to any degree of fineness. See us for complete information.

waste time fighting a fire or even reporting it before making sure that all occupants have escaped.

"Never jump from a window except as the last resort," the bulletin continued. "Make a rope of bed clothes. If you must jump, throw a mattress down first.

"In reporting a fire from an alarm box, wait to direct the firemen to the house. Over the telephone merely tell the operator that you want to report

one. Be sure to give the correct address.

"If your clothing is afire, do not run. This will fan the flames. Lie down and wrap yourself up in a rug, overcoat or blanket. This will smother the flames. If there is nothing to roll up in, just roll over slowly and beat the flames with your hands."
